Welcome

We are positive about the beef industry and what lies ahead for the hard working cattleman. The tools are in place to make genetic progress in beef operations. The market is signaling a need for cattle to be harvested at heavier weights and a higher percentage grading choice. Our country is the source of the world's finest beef that meet high standards which includes marbling and taste. We must not forget we are in the beef business. We need to recognize it is essential to improve muscle and yield in our nation's cattle. Enough muscle is important for improved efficiency in the pasture and all the way to the grocery store. We are in the protein business and must become more efficient to overtake our competitors in the efficiency race.

Suggested Guidelines

FOR USING YEARLING BULLS

We are firm believers in the use of yearling bulls and feel it is one of the best years of their lives. It is a time when they are easy to manage and their only concern is breeding cows. We have found that yearling bulls that are managed carefully during the second year of their lives, not only do well, but they will perform better, over time. Below are some suggested guidelines for the care of yearling bulls.

- Upon delivery to your ranch, keep yearling bulls separate from older bulls and feed them a maintenance ration of 5-8 lbs. per head of grain and free choice hay. Reduce the amount of grain fed gradually, so that bulls are on straight hay or grass two to four weeks prior to the breeding season.
- Where possible, try to limit the bulls to 45-60 days of pasture service the first year. At this time or as soon as possible remove the bulls and put them in separate pastures with plenty of good quality grass.
- It is best to feed yearling bulls separate from older bulls until after their second breeding season. This allows them to achieve the growth and strength to compete with older bulls for feed and space.
- You will see the benefit of a little added cost and care of feeding a yearling bull by probably two or three more years of service from a well-managed and healthy bull.

This set of bulls was developed on a high roughage diet.

- Please remember you can't compare EPDs between breeds. -
